

NEXT CLUB MEETING: Wednesday, MARCH 28, -7PM

This is a presentation on Potting And Repotting, Things To Watch For And Concerns.

This timely presentation will begin with a brief introduction to repotting and root pruning by Robert Bishop, followed by a presentation by Lary Howard. Lary will demonstrate a repotting technique, he first saw at the ABS Convention in Louisville, Kentucky, June 2011.

This technique effectively secures a root mass in a bonsai pot while minimizing damage to the roots. The evening will be rounds out with a demonstration by Diane Faust, William Struhar and Louise Neuman. These members will demonstrate how they repot their bonsai

NOTES FROM THE SIDELINES (February Meeting)

Paul Kulesa – VP/Program Chairperson
Almudena Veiga-Lopez –Recording Secretary

Jay opened the meeting at 7 PM welcoming 57 members and visitors for this meeting. Jay welcomed the four new members that were in the audience. With the seating of the 2012 Board Jay acknowledged the transition to the new board by thanking:

- those who have left board service (Bill Heston-past Pres, Dustin Mann-Director-at-Large, Vicki Norfleet-Librarian, Ryan Liu-Newsletter Publisher).
- those who have joined the Board (Michael Field-Director-at-Large and Ray Domzalski-Librarian).

- those who continue to serve (Joan Wheeler, Almudena Veiga-Lopez, Lary Howard and Raquel Vega).
- those who perform task for the club at the Board's direction, Hugh Danville - Fundraising and Roger Gaede – Auction.
- and thank Alfonso Tercero for his two years of service at President.

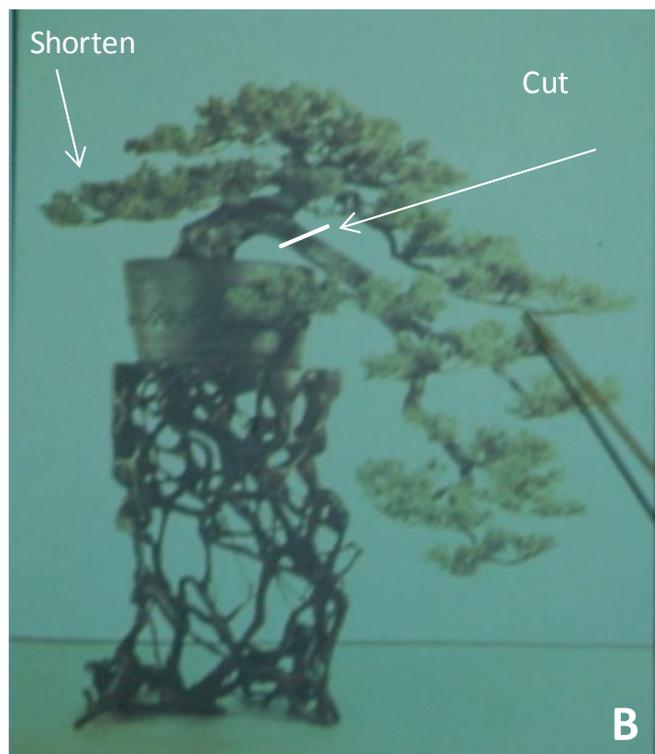

The program started at 7:00pm Martin started his presentation talking about how to train and develop an eye for bonsai styling. He went over a few basic concepts, such as the 'line of the tree', 'sense of balance', 'sense of proportion', 'necessary space', 'sense of movement', 'branch structure, 'unity', etc... He also described a few techniques when styling different types of trees (evergreens vs. deciduous).

Martin presenting at MBG in AABS February Meeting.

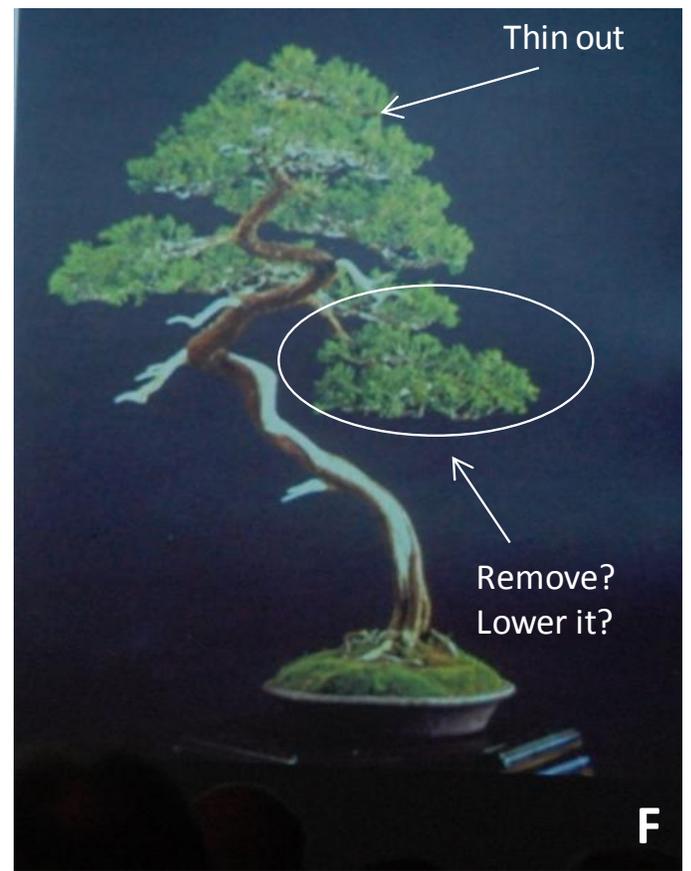

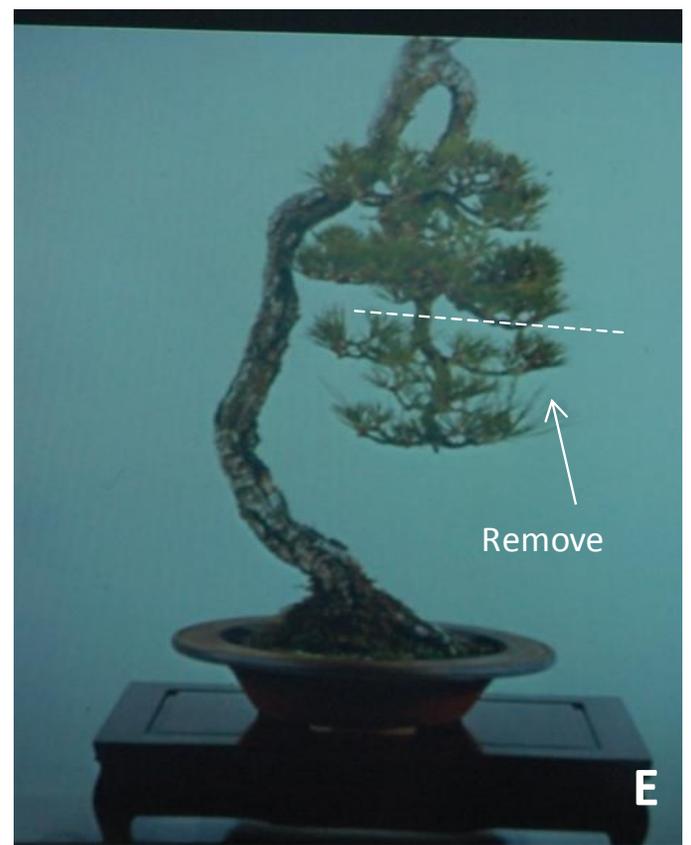

These concepts seem relatively easier when Martin explained them in theory. But it became evident that they are very difficult to put them into practice as he demonstrated in the second part of his talk when he showed a few styling examples. Martin went over a series of images of bonsais and in a very interactive way asked the audience what is that they thought was wrong about the bonsai that was on the screen.

Several of these images are shown in images A to H. For instance, regarding tree in image A, Martin mentioned that he would remove the jin on the top of the tree since it only drives the attention away from the tree. Martin then moved onto an example (image B) in which the cascade tree could be shortened to a semicascade by removing the lower branch that destabilizes the balance of the tree. The tree also needs some trimming on the lower left branch.

For the tree in Image C, Martin recommended tilting the tree to the right and reducing the foliage of the left side of the tree. A very interesting debate started when Martin showed the pine on Image D. He asked the audience which of the foliage patches should be removed, if any. AABS members were quite divided in choosing an option.

Although Martin would have left on the tree only the middle branch, he said that in this case there are other potential good options such as leaving only the low right branch or even taking the middle branch out leaving the other two. On the next pine tree (Image E), Martin suggested to remove part of the lower foliage. He showed a beautiful example (Image F) where he would thin out the top of the tree and also may be remove or lower the lower right branch. Also, specifically provoking was the next tree (Image G). The audience was again divided with regard to which ones of the branches should be removed or left on the tree. He suggested that the lower branch may be removed and the top branch may be styled into a jin. In another pine tree, Martin showed two different options to avoid the lack of taper in the top section of the tree (see Images H1 and H2 for the silhouettes of the two different options). We all felt that there is still a lot that one has to learn when it comes to styling bonsai. Thank you Martin for such interactive meeting!

During this program a raffle had place. The winner of the raffle was Paula Bard (see next page) which was the fortunate member to take home Martin Schmalenberg's book, 'North American Bonsai'. Thank you Martin for the generous gift and thank you all for participating! See you next month!

WIKLE BONSAI SALE ANNOUNCEMENT

By Jack Wikle

Looking back at more than 45 years of pleasure and personal satisfaction in "growing" bonsai, and with my 80th birthday rapidly approaching (July 2012), my wife, Jeannine, and I have decided it is time to pass on the bulk of my outdoor bonsai collection (some 90 trees or groups of trees in bonsai pots) before changes in our health or other circumstances make this transition more difficult. After having these bonsai independently appraised, they will be available for sale at 40% off from the appraised values --- first to these public gardens: Hidden Lake Gardens, Matthaei Botanical Gardens and Frederik Meijer Gardens and then to individuals --- until Labor Day, 2012.

Our plan is to host the last of our Wikle Bonsai Open Houses, open to everyone, Saturday and Sunday of Labor Day Weekend. Until that time, we will continue to welcome visitation by appointment. If you would like to come and see us and the bonsai in Tecumseh, Michigan, call us at 517-423-7893.

SALE OPENING TO INDIVIDUALS, SATURDAY, APRIL 28, TIMING AND PROCEDURES

Attempting to limit confusion and equalize buying opportunity for everyone, this plan will be followed:

--- Visiting before our Saturday, April 28, 40% off sale opening date to see the bonsai and consider purchase possibilities will be welcomed. Call us to let us know when you would like to come.

--- Bonsai will not be "held" or "reserved" for individuals prior to the April 28 sale opening.

--- 8:00 am, April 28, gates will be opened, again giving visitors opportunity to enjoy the bonsai and consider purchase possibilities.

--- 12:30 pm, April 28, drawing names of people interested in buying (present in person or by proxy*) to assign buyer numbers will begin. Potential buyers arriving after 12:30 will receive buyer numbers in order of their arrival.

--- When buyer number assignment has been completed, the sales process will begin with buyers being offered, in numerical order, an opportunity to select a bonsai for purchase.

THE SECOND ROUND OF SELECTION OPPORTUNITIES WILL TAKE PLACE IN REVERSE NUMERICAL ORDER, the third round in numerical order and the fourth round in reverse numerical order, etc., until there is no further interest in buying.

--- Full payment, cash or check, will be required day of sale (we will not be able to accept credit cards). Michigan sales tax (6%) will be collected.

--- Bonsai unsold by Labor Day will be donated to Hidden Lake Gardens, Matthaei Botanical Gardens and Frederik Meijer Gardens.

* PURCHASE BY PROXY WILL BE POSSIBLE for buyers not able to be present on April 28. To purchase by proxy, your name, contact information and a check on deposit for the selling price of the desired bonsai plus Michigan sales tax, will be needed. If the desired bonsai is not available when your number comes up, your deposit check will be returned or destroyed as you choose.

Call us if you have questions.

Jack and Jeannine Wikle, 517-423-7893

CALL FOR ARTICLES!

Almudena Veiga-Lopez – Recording Secretary

Dear AABS members,
Well, Spring is almost here! At least, looks like that based on last weeks temperatures. So, while you are bringing back you trees from the Winter storage or when you visit a botanical garden, etc... share that bonsai experience with other AABS members. Your bonsai experience as beginners, intermediate, or proficient bonsaists will be helpful to our bonsai community.

Whether short or long, your stories are most welcome in the newsletter. Please, enjoy, write, and share!
