

June Meeting: Chris Baker at the Chicago Botanic Garden

At our June 22nd meeting, Chris Baker will give us a virtual tour of the Chicago Botanic Garden. It will be a zoom meeting and will be held at Matthaei Botanical Gardens.

In April 2014, Chris Baker began work as the first full-time curator of bonsai at the Chicago Botanic Garden, where he maintains approximately 175 bonsai trees.

Baker has been studying and working on bonsai for more than 13 years. Previously, from 2011 to early 2014, he was an intern and volunteer at the United States National Arboretum's National Bonsai and Penjing Museum in Washington, D.C. As an active member of the Maryland bonsai community, Baker gave many demonstrations and talks at the Potomac Bonsai Association Spring Show in Washington, D.C., as well as to garden clubs. Baker spent six months in 2012 studying bonsai with third-generation bonsai master Tohru Suzuki at the Daijuen Nursery in Okazaki, Japan.

Baker has always had an interest in horticulture, but his introduction to bonsai started with his purchase of a bonsai juniper as a gift for a friend. When asked why he is so passionate about bonsai, Baker says, "Bonsai is a representation of the beauty and power of nature; it's the perfect mix of artistry, horticulture, and mechanical skills—it's living art."

President's Perspective Mark Hanner

Greetings

What a fine presentation we enjoyed last month by Young Choe, telling about and demonstrating the art of kusamono! The workshops the following day were well-attended, and resulted in some real nice plantings. My thanks to all who helped with these events. It would be great if some of these kusamono find their way to our annual show, coming up in late August.

Speaking of the annual show, I'm hoping you are all planning to enter a tree or two, or your kusamono, so we have a nice representation of the talents in our club. While mature and 'finished' trees are always nice to see, for those of us with less experience, it's good to see what you're working on. And for our visitors to the show, I believe it helps for them to appreciate everyone can get involved in the art, and learn as they progress to those mature examples.

If you have not already registered for the auctions involved with the Jack Wikle Bonsai Legacy, be sure to go to the link (<https://paybee.io/@jack@17>) and get signed up. The online auctions have already started, and preparations are well underway for a big auction, and birthday celebration, at Hidden Lakes Garden on July 9! Volunteers are still needed and encouraged to sign up for this unique event in the bonsai world. Email me, or see Bob Bauer at the next meeting.

Hope to see you all at the June meeting!

Mark

Kusamono presentation and demo by Young Choe

It is a special arrangement of native flowers and plants in a bonsai pot or moss ball.

She thinks about the entire season when creating an arrangement for best color show.

Young was first introduced to Kusa Mono by Keido Yamane in Japan.

It is considered a combination of horticulture and art.

Native plants such as the Michigan state flower: dwarf lake iris should be used.

Mostly outdoor plants with small leaves are used.

The plants should be grouped as all sun loving or shade preferred.

They can be displayed along bonsai trees and should follow these rules:

- Seasonal effect
- Proportion
- Harmonize
- Habitat
- Maintenance

Identify the bonsai species and examine the environment where they grow.

Research the plants that grow near the tree for kusamono creation.

Moss is also an important part of the kusamono creation.

It is among the first plants on earth and has no roots.

For the demo:

Soil = ½ bonsai soil and ½ potting soil with a bit of horticultural charcoal.

Pot = find the front and place grid in bottom.

Start with soil on bottom, then grass, iris, rest of plants, more soil with chopstick and moss.

Winterization should take place in an unheated greenhouse or garage.

Spring is a good time for planting.

Then Young Choe created a moss ball variety.

Start with the screen and wire thoroughly.

Muck and plants with wire around.

More muck, trim mesh and add moss with thin tread around.
